

AVS, Chevron, Fero and Ramudden, known as Work Zone Safety Group of Companies (WZSG), have signed an agreement to acquire Bartenbach Group, Austria

Leverkusen (Germany) / Bürs (Austria), February 1, 2022 – WZSG, the largest temporary traffic and safety solutions specialists in Europe, through AVS Group, has acquired Bartenbach Group, a renowned supplier in the field of road marking with headquarters in Bürs, Vorarlberg, Austria. Terms and conditions of the transaction are not disclosed.

As the market leader for permanent and temporary road marking, the Bartenbach Group employs more than 50 people at three locations in Austria. Since its founding in 1885, the company has expanded its original business of painting to include road marking, and road and winter maintenance.

"Bartenbach is known and valued as a reliable, innovative and customer-oriented service provider. This is an ideal expansion of our competencies into the Austrian market and further improves our strong position in the road marking segment." says Bora Gülan, CEO of WZSG.

"Our companies are very similar in family thinking and structured, reliable action. Together with the Work Zone Safety Group, we can now react even more individually to the increasing requirements of our customers," says Rene Bartenbach, fifth-generation managing director of the Bartenbach Group.

Work Zone Safety Group of companies (WZSG) operates traffic services companies in 12 countries with over 4,000 employees including, AVS (Germany), Chevron Traffic Management (UK), Fero (Belgium, Netherlands) and Ramudden (Nordics), as well as HRS (UK), a company focused on digitalizing mobility and safety in work zones.

Bartenbach Group was founded in 1885 as a painting business and over the decades has added road marking and road maintenance activities. With a history of almost 140 years, the company not only has tradition, but can also draw on a wealth of experience, which is reflected both in the quality of its work and in the service it provides to its customers. Experienced staff and a state-of-the-art fleet of vehicles ensure high quality resulting in long-standing relationships with a diverse customer base of businesses, and state and local government agencies across the country.
