

AVS Verkehrssicherung has signed an agreement to acquire Gerding GmbH / MIS GmbH

Leverkusen/Senden (Germany), May 13, 2020 - AVS Verkehrssicherung ("AVS"), a Triton Fund IV portfolio company, has signed an agreement to acquire Gerding GmbH Verkehrstechnik and MIS GmbH ("Gerding/MIS"), a renowned provider in the field of traffic engineering based in Senden, Germany. Terms and conditions of the transaction are not disclosed.

Gerding and MIS, based in Senden/Münsterland, have 25 employees and many years of experience in traffic engineering and mobile traffic jam warning systems. With the planning, delivery and installation of traffic signs and gantries, Gerding works closely together with state developers, cities and municipalities as well as private construction companies throughout Germany. As a service provider, MIS GmbH offers fully automatic, self-sufficient traffic jam warning systems and mobile LED variable message signs.

"The company is known as a long-standing, reliable and innovative service provider. For AVS, the acquisition of Gerding/MIS is an ideal expansion of the competences in the segment of congestion warning systems and mobile signage", said Andreas Schwingeler, COO at AVS.

"As part of AVS, we can bundle our knowledge and jointly develop effective solutions for the information and control of road users", Thomas Gerding, Managing Director of Gerding GmbH as well as MIS GmbH, added.
